

WELLINGTON STUDY GROUP LIBRARY

Library Facility

Extensive resources of knowledge are available to members in a well-catalogued and accessible library. It includes treasures from some of history's greatest teachers, plus a record of the discussions and answers provided by those who have personally guided the group through its fifty years of work in New Zealand, London and elsewhere around the world. These materials provide inspiration and a framework for members' ongoing personal discovery.

Access to the Wellington Study Group Library

The Library contains around two thousand books on themes of interest to our members and to scholars of spiritual traditions of many varieties. Of particular interest may be English translations of the classical Sanskrit phonetics of Panini, Sanskrit Dictionaries and related material. Extensive Biblical Concordances, encyclopaedias and particular works relating to the Christian Mystical tradition are held. Works relating to P.D. Ouspensky and his direct followers (particularly material from Dr. Francis Roles) are available. Editions of the Khoran, Upanishads and Dhamapada with extensive scholarly commentaries; Sufi material etc. are present. Non dualistic traditions (eg.Advaita) are particularly well represented. Please note that certain books, records and materials with a red dot sticker on the cover, may not be borrowed and taken from the library without prior permission of the Librarian.

Newsletter Collection

From the early 1970s, the Wellington Study Group issued various newsletters from time to time. Not all copies of these have survived.

After 2013, no paper copies of these newsletters were produced. Thus, it was decided by the Wellington Study Group that their website would incorporate official communications as well as observations and inspirational writings contributed by members.

These newsletters provide insight into the evolution of the Study Group, and as such they have been indexed. The Index can be found on the Library Computer and lists both the title of items in each newsletter and some details of the subject. The author of any particular item was not always recorded.

To gain a view of the material available in the library please apply to Priscilla Arnold (04 5698358) or Ron Ward (04 9708420). If further study is required a written statement of the extent of access and the object of research should be made to the Society who will undertake to inform you of any restrictions that might be required on a case by case basis.

WELLINGTON STUDY GROUP LIBRARY

Each book is assigned a call number consisting of a classification number and a book number. The classification number is the Dewey Decimal number which indicates the subject and the book number is the first three letters of a word used to distinguish one book from the others with the same classification number.

The library uses three different types of book numbers. They are :

The first three letters of the author's surname.

The first three letters of the book title followed by the first three letter of the editor's surname used where the author is unknown, or a book is a collection of writings by different authors.

The first three letters of the surname of the person who is the subject of the book, followed by the first three letters of the author's surname, used for a biography, autobiography or a book about the work of a particular person, that does not include biographical material.

Books that have been given the name type of numbers are grouped together and listed in the catalogue in three separate sections as follows :
